

Over the past few weeks, children and their parents have been busy enjoying a Valentine's Day party, watching a puppet show and making various crafts ranging from ladybugs to zebras. On this page is a small sampling of the activities and pictures they took part in.

Children and adults at the Rotary Library enjoy making their own zebra creations out of hearts. Did you know that each zebra's stripes are unique? No two zebras are the same, just like human fingerprints!

Children and parents enjoy a puppet show featuring a little girl and a duckling, called "Love Is".
